INTELLECTUAL

SOCIAL

Through religious guidance in our intellectual progress, social activities, and physical development, we endeavor to reach our eternal goal. Our quest for happiness prompts perfection in daily living.

Dedication

To those of our alumni who are no longer with us in body but who still roam the familiar corridors in spirit, we, the class of '46, proudly dedicate this book of memories.

In a special way, this annual is designed as a tribute to those who died for the peace we now enjoy. May it serve as a fitting shrine to their heroic deeds.

“ . . . through religious guidance in our intellectual progress . . . ”

Beginning each school day with the Morning Offering, the students humbly and wholeheartedly dedicate themselves to the task of perfecting, as far as possible, their intellectual talents.

Sanctified experience produces intellects prepared to meet present needs in the light of future goals and final end.

To understand the word of God,
To carry out His will,
So that our earthly duties
We may endeavor to fulfill.

“ . . . through religious guidance in our social activities . . . ”

At the feet of Our Lady, model of purity, the students gather in a wholesome and friendly atmosphere to enjoy the social side of school life.

During the gay dances, informative discussions, and serious club meetings, she smiles down on us, her beloved children, as we apply the principles of Christian social conduct, learned under the watchful guidance of her Son.

As companions in the pursuit of knowledge, we acquire traits of kindness, courtesy, and cooperation while learning the amenities of social contacts.

Social hours, spent together
To acquaint one with his own,
Insure, to faithful Christians,
Blessings for their future home.

through religious guidance in our physical development . . .”

As a fit instrument of the soul, the student's body is developed through well-organized play to stimulate mental activity, a keen appreciation of sportsmanship, freshness of spirit and a desire for clean living.

Never forgetting to implore Divine assistance before games, always thanking God for victories and defeats alike, the athletic teams of St. Vincent's are true champions in the eyes of God.

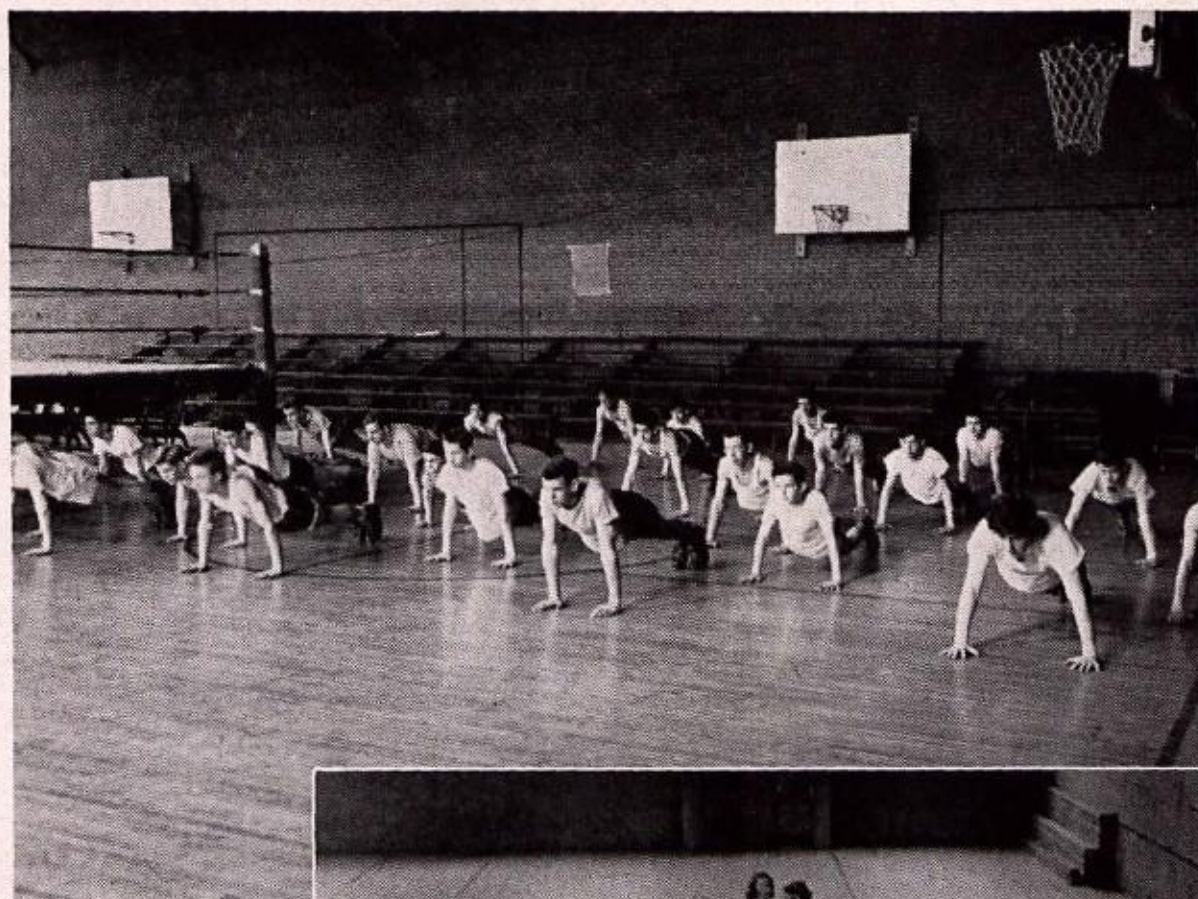

Sound minds need sound bodies,
Bodies strong and straight;

STUDENTS

Members of a spiritual family, united in their work through union with God—ever striving to practice His doctrine, enact His will, and revere His word. . .

They call upon Him for assistance in their studies, that they may capably fulfill their walks in life; that they may make this world a safer place for man, a safer place for Christians . . .

He is ever present in their varied activities, their social gatherings. His Blessed Mother, too, waits upon their spiritual needs at all times. . .

For victory—for defeat, a prayer is offered in thanksgiving for His guidance in their efforts. They prepare their bodies through physical education, making them stronger temples of the Holy Ghost. . .

God is the center of all their actions. He is their inspiration, their hope, their guide.
